Dear John,

My brother and I were starting a new career and wanted to bring my mom's homestyle cooking to the community of West LA. We didnt know much about the hospitality industry and were lucky to have met John and the CalAsia team. We wanted a modern place that was welcoming and John and CalAsia worked with us and our budget to bring our dream to life. It was an absolute pleasure to work with the team and they always listened to our feedbacks and suggestions and far surpassed our expectations. I look forward to working with them again in our next project and would happily recommend them to anyone we know.
